Piracy is becoming one of the industries in New York now. Pirates are running down coal barges and robbing them of their coal.

The Americans have taught the Cubans how to keep yellow fever out. There hasn't been a case of it in Havana since September of last year.

There are some female Boxers, too, in China. The latest is that one of them leads an army of 10,000 male Boxers, and she is also "remarkably handsome."

Gen. Bragg of "pig-tail whistle" fame has been transferred from Havana to Hong-Kong, and that closes the incident and will probably close that style of remarks, as far as he is concerned.

They have all sorts of fellows in Pennsylvania. One of the latest to achieve distinction was a mild mannered, soft voiced fellow who sold Bibles in the day time and stole horses in the night.

A New York brick man imparts, through the Sun, the interesting information to those who are short on coal for cooking purposes, that if they will soak a terracotta brick for a few seconds in kerosene oil, put it in the stove and light it, it will burn long enough to cook a dinner.

JAMES SPRUNT INSTITUTE.

Wilmington Presbytery Acted Adversely Upon Proposition for Its Removal to Wallace—Sessions Closed.

Wilmington Presbytery at its session at Mount Williams' church, Pender county, Friday, acted adversely upon the proposition to move the James Sprunt Institute from Kenansville to Wallace; but it was agreed, after a full discussion, to investigate the locations at Wallace and Teachey's, in view of the interest manifested in higher education in those sections, with a view to establishing schools at either or both places later. The Presbytery already has very flourishing high schools at Clarkton and Faison and both are enjoying exceedingly prosperous terms this year.

Rev. C. W. Traywick, of Wilmington, was moderator and Rev. G. H. Starbuck, of Black River, and Elder W. M. Hand, of Burgaw, were clerks of the Presbytery.

Rev. J. C. Story, who is in charge of the Brunswick group of Presbyterian churches, was ordained to the ministry.

Presbytery adjourned to meet in Kenansville in April.

ADVERTISING THE CARNIVAL.

Expert Man Will Leave To-day for Trip Through the Country—Carnival Queen to Be Elected.

Mr. Alex. S. Holden, of the Pythian Carnival Advertising Committee, will leave Monday for a two-week's trip in the country, advertising Wilmington's big fair the first week in November. He will carry along with him a plentiful supply of lithograph and other advertising matter and will see that every nook and corner of country is covered. He will go first down the W., C. & A. railroad and connections as far as Florence and will then cover the Carolina Central territory as far as Monroe.

The Parade Committee is arranging for an elaborate pageant for one of the big days of the fair. A week before the Carnival opens a Queen of Carnival will be elected by popular vote and she will be privileged to name her maids of honor, who will be assigned a handsome float in the parade. The machinery for this contest is yet to be arranged. An effort will be made to revive the Uniform Rank, K. of P., and if this is effected an attractive display will be made. Pythian lodges for miles around are being invited to take part in this feature.

The key to Carnival headquarters will be found next door, at Shepard's, to all who desire to enter the rooms today.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Have you registered?

— Unless you register you cannot vote in the November election. Remember, this is a new deal throughout.

— All the churches in the Ministerial Association of the city will begin their evening service to-night at 7:30 o'clock.

— Rev. J. L. Vipperman has commenced a series of sermons on the "Captivity of Zion." All are cordially invited to hear him.

— Attention is called to the hours of Miss Cammie Lord's dancing classes in the Business Local column of to-day's STAR.

— The directors of the United Charities Association will hold their quarterly meeting Monday at 3:30 o'clock at Chesnut Street Presbyterian church.

— Mr. E. C. Holt has secured from Mr. Frank T. Mills the handsome pair of black buggy horses which have caused so much admiration on the streets the past week.

— J. D. Bellamy, colored, who says he hails from Columbia, S. C., was locked up at the police station last night, charged with slashing Lue Bluefort, colored, on the arm. The negroes had a difficulty last night near Fourth and Brunswick street.

The Local Coal Supply.

For the present Wilmington has had none of the coal famine so grievously complained of in other Southern cities, but just how long the conditions will remain satisfactory depends upon the length of life of the coal strike. True the prices are necessarily a little higher than last year, but the local dealers have been exceedingly kind and have made advances the minimum. Virginia lump is quoted locally at $4.25 per ton; "Red Jacket" lump, $5.50; Tennessee splint, $6, and Blacksmith coal, $5. Anthracite—well, that's another question, but there is still a little on hand and it's being sold inside the $10 scale so far.

MISTRIAL RESULTED.

IT STOOD SIX TO SIX.

Disagreement Altogether on Question of Liability—Superior Court Will Resume Its Sessions on Monday Morning—Jurors.

Pursuant to telegraphic instructions from Judge Henry R. Bryan at Newbern, a juror was withdrawn yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock and a mistrial was ordered in the $20,000 damage suit brought by B. F. Penny in the Superior Court against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company of South Carolina.

Early in the day Judge Bryan was communicated with by telegraph by the attorneys interested in the case with the result stated. The jury on the last ballot stood exactly as it did on the first—six for the plaintiff and six for the railroad. The difference was on the question of liability wholly and evolved from the very first issue: "Was the plaintiff injured by the negligence of the defendant?" Six stoutly said "No" and six were just as emphatic in maintaining that the answer should be yes. At one time some one proposed to go to the second issue, but again there were six "noes" and half a dozen "years" and it was seen with the determination upon each side that the "brow of eternity would turn gray with age," as a learned attorney expressed it, before there would be a change and consequently there was nothing to do but to "agree to disagree," which was done."

Those understood to have favored no damage were Capt. Walter G. MacRae, Mr. Richard J. Jones, Messrs. E H. Sneed, George Harriss, C. D. Foard and W. E. Koonce. On the other side were Messrs. F. A. Montgomery, Ike Solomon, John Dyer, W. H. M. Koch, C. D. Gilbert and Ike K. Pinner. The question of damages was never reached, the disagreement having been solely on the question of liability as stated.

Both sides claim a victory in the mistrial and will enter the next hearing just as full of determination as ever. A finer array of legal talent was never drawn up or more equally divided upon a case in the New Hanover Court House. On the side of the plaintiff were Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy, Herbert McClammy, E. K. Bryan, Eugene S. Martin and A. J. Marshall; for the defendant railroad company, Messrs. Davis & Davis, Bellamy & Peschau and Rountree & Carr.

Monday the Superior Court will resume its sessions at 10 A. M. with a trial of the $1,500 damage suit of Meta H. Hullen against the City of Wilmington, the contentions in which were given in these columns yesterday. The plaintaff own property at southeast corner of Front and Brunswick streets and she says that in April 1897 the city made excavations on Front street which impaired the value of the property in the amount named. She also says that for two years the property was not rented on account of its undesirability by reason of the excavations and she therefore also asks for an additional $300 and interest for two years rent. Messrs. Herbert McClammy and Jno. D. Bellamy represent the plaintiff ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and City Attorney Bellamy will appear for the defendant.

In addition to the regular jury summoned for the second week of the term, the following talesmen were drawn yesterday for duty Monday: Geo. W. Chestnut, Elijah A. Todd, Jos. H. Loweństein, Z. N. Walton, W. D. Hall, Geo. S. Baldwin, A. H. Holmes, Andrew Smith, D. O'Connor, Jno. W. Harper, F. C. Mohr, V. D. Richardson, J. Norwood Huske, Otto Banck and Hammond Tiretgen.

The regular jury for the week is as follows: T. B. Kingsbury, Louis Gordon, E. P. Owens, S. A. Schloss, DeWitt C. Love, George W. Rogers, John H. Strauss, S. P. Cowan, Geo. T. Bland, E. F. Johnson, Wm. H. Brown, W. L. Harlowe, T. W. Wood, H. W. Mason, Matt. J. Heyer, A. B. Brown, B. M. Lehue, Branch W. Jones.

WHARF COMMERCIAL DOTS.

Steamers Arrive and Depart—Schooner for Tics—Naval Stores.

There was nothing doing in spirits turpentine yesterday. Rosin advances to $1.20 per barrel for strained and $1.25 per barrel for good strained.

Schr. Elvira F. French, 903 tons, Capt. Hopkins, arrived yesterday for cargo of cross ties from the Hall Tie & Lumber Co. The British steamer Ixia, 1,254 tons, arrived from Huelva with cargo of pyrites for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co.

The little Norwegian tramp steamer Europa, Capt. Sundt, cleared yesterday with a cargo of 3,242 bales of cotton, valued at $145,000 and consigned to Dunkirk, France, by Messrs. Sprunt & Son. Hitherto all the cotton shipped from this point has been to Liverpool, Bremen or Ghent.

The Minstrels Last Night.

At matinee and night performance yesterday the Who, What, When Minstrels held the boards at the Academy. It is a small organization, but select and gives a very good evening's entertainment for the money. The street parade during the day was very creditable.

GREAT COMIC OPERA STAR.

Mr. Frank Daniels Thursday Night, Only Engagement of the Week—His Exploits on the Stage.

An engagement extraordinary will be that of Mr. Frank Daniels, the great comic opera star, and his large company Thursday night of this week at the Academy of Music. The big New York hit, "Miss Simplicity," will be presented on a scale of magnificence. The cast will number seventy-odd. The stage settings, scenery and electrical effects comprise two car loads and are the same used during the long run of the opera last season at the Casino Theatre, New York city.

FRANK DANIELS AS "BLOSSOMS."

An observant Philadelphia dramatic writer once pointed out that the most essential ingredient in the formula of the libretto of a successful comic opera for a comedian is some unique form of soul-harrowing, heart-rending, marrow-chilling and hair-raising trouble or peril, through all the stages of which the star in question must go during the two and half hours of the performance. A hasty review of the principal successes of Frank Daniels, Francis Wilson and De Wolf Hopper verifies the correctness of the above theory and it seems true that in the case of the comic opera comedian, trouble for the comedian spells fun for the audience. In his new role Daniels is supposed to have been a former trolley-car conductor who suddenly finds himself the valet to a young king. This combination would be enough to make most men feel shaky. But Daniels, or "Blossoms," as he is known in the play, has to manipulate an automobile, and his first comic opera exploit is to appear coming through space from an explosion of the "gasoline buggy." Before he gets the roadside dust out of his mouth, his royal master lets him know in an easy, off-hand way that he is to act as king for an indefinite period. Then his troubles do begin in real earnest. He is beset by a conspiring band of ministers who hunger for his life and who try to plunge him into war, and at the same time he is kept in an ecstacy of unease by his efforts to keep on the right side of his real sweetheart and meantime maintain the intrigues and amours that are supposed to make up a part of every well-regulated monarch.

The sale of seats will commence promptly at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Academy's down-town box office at Plummer's. Reserved seats will be $1.50 and $1.

L'ARIOSO GERMAN CLUB.

Annual Meeting Last Night and Election of Officers for Ensuing Year.

The annual meeting of L'Arioso German Club was held last night in the reading room of the Masonic Temple Capt. E. W. Van Court Lucas, the president, presiding, and Mr. C. McD. Davis acting as secretary. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President Capt. E. W. Van C. Lucas.
Vice President—Jno. D. Bellamy, Jr., 3rd.
Sec. and Treas—Robert Nash.
Leader—Clayton Giles, Jr.
Board of Governors—Champ McD. Davis, James Stevenson, Henry B. Peschau and Thos. B. Willard.

The meeting was well attended and enthusiastic. The prospects are bright for a very pleasant season. The opening german will be given the latter part of October.

REGISTRATION SLOW.

Less Than Fifty Per Cent. of the People Are Now Qualified to Vote.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKINGS.

Hon. F. M. Simmons Will Be Here Monday and Capt. R. B. Glenn on Wednesday Night — Twenty-two Days Until Election.

It is just 23 days until election, and there are only 11 more days in which to register—an absolute prerequisite to voting.

Yesterday the registrars were at their various polling places with the books open all day, and the apathy that exists among the voters, as shown by the returns at night, is something appalling. In some wards less than thirty per cent. of the voters have thus far qualified themselves to exercise their suffrage in the coming election, and in none of the wards is the registration above 50 per cent.

It has been well said that the only danger the Democracy in the State has to fear is the failure of the voters to register. The majority, of course, is not needed in New Hanover, but the central and western counties of North Carolina most earnestly look to the East to save them. This was emphasized by Hon. Cyrus B. Watson in his speech last week in the Court House and the New Hanover County Democratic organization desires to emphasize it now.

This week, until Saturday, the books will not be open at the polling places but the registrars must be sought at their residences or places of business. Next Saturday for the last, the registrars will be at the polling places from 9 A. M. until sunset. It is absolutely necessary that registration be attended to at that time, if not sooner.

Chairman Simmons Here Monday Night.

Hon. F. M. Simmons, United States Senator and Democratic State Chairman, will arrive in Wilmington today or to-morrow and on to-morrow night he will address the voters of New Hanover in the Court House. This will be Mr. Simmons' first public appearance here since his elevation to a seat in the United States Senate and for this reason and the further fact that he is at the head of the Democratic organization in North Carolina, should ensure for him a large crowd. Mr. Simmons will outline the plan of campaign and otherwise speak interestingly of the issues, State and national.

On Wednesday night, Capt. R. B. Glenn, always a favorite in Wilmington, will speak in the Court House and should be heard by a large number of voters.

THE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE QUESTION.

Experienced Warehouse Man Will Be Here Monday—Investigating Committee.

Mr. A. B Smith, connected with the Banner Tobacco Warehouse at Benson, N. C, will be here to-morrow to talk with the Industrial Committee from the Chamber of Commerce concerning the proposed warehouse for Wilmington. Messrs. Geo. O. Gaylord and W. E. Worth returned yesterday from Goldsboro, where they made a careful study of the tobacco trade and warehouse system. They are enthusiastic over what they saw and heard and will report to the Chamber of Commerce at their earliest convenience. It now seems that a tobacco warehouse for Wilmington and the development of yellow leaf growing in this section is a surety.

Another Suit Against A. C. L.

Jno. H. Brown, colored, yesterday qualified as administrator of the late Geo. W. Price, also colored, and through his counsel, Messrs. Empie & Empie, gave notice of a suit which he will bring against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company to recover an amount of damage for the death of Price, who it will be remembered, was killed while trying to cross the Coast Line yards in this city, between some box cars. The complaint is not yet filed and therefore the amount asked cannot be ascertained.

The County Schools.

The enrollment of pupils in the county schools numbers 374 children. Delgado and Wrightsville tie for the largest number, which is 46. Greenville and Masonboro are a close second with 44 and 43, respectively. Acorn Branch has 41, East Wilmington 31, Scott's Hill 29, Middle Sound 26, Castle Haynes 24, Myrtle Grove 27 and Oak Hill 17. The enrollment this year for the first day broke all previous records.

Another Appendicitis Patient.

Dr. John P. Brown, of Ashpole, N. C., arrived yesterday bringing another patient to the James Walker Memorial Hospital for treatment for appendicitis. The patient is Mr. Berry Mitchell, a young man of Robeson, who is suffering greatly. Mr. Wilbur Mitchell accompanied his brother for the operation, if one is found necessary to-day. This is Dr. Brown's third patient with appendicitis in the last sixty days.

THE DEMOCRATS OF PENDER.

County Convention at Burgaw Yesterday Nominated Strong Ticket--Bryanized Resolutions Not in Favor.

The Pender Democratic County Convention was held yesterday at Burgaw. The convention was called to order by County Chairman J. T. Bland, and Mr. James F. Moore was made permanent chairman. Mr. Milton McIntosh, editor of the Pender Chronicle, was made secretary. The convention nominated a complete ticket, as follows:

Clerk of Court—J. F. Johnson.
Sheriff—W. W. Alderman.
Legislature—J. T. Foy.
Register of Deeds—J. B. Black.
Coroner—Dr. R. J. Williams.
Surveyor—C. C. Woodcock.
Commissioners—K. F. Powers, F. P. Flynn and Geo. J. Moore.

A. D. Hicks, of Faison, was endorsed for the State Senate for the district composed of Duplin and Pender counties.

The convention was enthusiastic and well attended. Resolutions were reported highly extolling Wm. J. Bryan, but it is learned that the committee was sent back and came forth again with the "manifesto" considerably modified, after which it was passed.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION.

Day of Prayer Observed Yesterday by Organization of Wilmington Presbytery--Several Addresses Made.

The Woman's Missionary Union of Wilmington Presbytery observed a "Day of Prayer" at the First Presbyterian church yesterday and the services were attended with much success.

Two sessions were held. The morning service commenced at 10:30 A. M. with a hymn and reading and prayer by Dr A. D. McClure and Rev. C. W. Traywick. This was followed by an address on, "The Value of Prayer in the Church" by Mrs. H. C. DuBose and a silent prayer for the spiritual advancement of the missionaries and their growth in grace, closed of Mrs. Geo. C. Worth. "Self Sacrifice for Mission Work" was the subject by another address on the programme and this was followed by prayer by Mrs. E. A. McRae and another silent prayer, alternating with stanzas of "Coronation."

Lunch was served in the Memorial Hall from 12:45 to 1:45 P. M., when the afternoon service commenced with a hymn and an address by Dr. McClure on "Prayer, or the Development of the Children's Societies." Mrs. Worth spoke on "Mission Work in the Dispensary" and Mrs. McRae spoke on the "Necessity for Enthusiasm in Mission Work." After prayer led by Mrs. R. M. McIntire and a silent prayer, the afternoon service closed. The last prayer was alternating with verses of "Jesus the Very Thought of Thee," and wns "That the Influences of the Revival in Japan may be Far-Reaching and Lasting For Out-Going Missions of the Northern Church; For Educational Work in China; For Triumph of Protestantism in South America; For Corea and for Cuba and Mexico."

AS SEEN IN BIRMINGHAM.

Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' Circus Coming To-morrow Week at Hilton.

Speaking of the Forepaugh & Sells' Brothers' circus, the Birmingham Age-Herald last week says:

"The main feature of the two performances was the daring act of Diavolo, who loops the loop on a bicycle. The rider decends a long incline and rolls off on level ground. At one time the man is hanging downward with the wheel above him. The great momentum keeps him from falling. It is similar to the old feat of turning a bucket of water over so swiftly that not a drop is spilled.

"The next act which elicited great applause from the crowd was a drill by a company of Zouaves. Every movement was executed with perfect precision and the guns were handled in such a rhythmical manner it seemed as if the arms were moved by machinery.

"The bareback riding, acrobatic and aerial turns were all up to the standard required by first-class circuses, while the clowns drove the children into convulsions of laughter.

"Though hampered by the big crowd, the performance was entirely satisfactory."

SCHOOL CLOSING AT ROCKY POINT.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

ROCKY POINT, N. C., Oct. 11.—Our people enjoyed a real treat last night in the closing exercises of Prof. Daland's school at this place. He is a born teacher having in a high degree the happy faculty of interesting and impressing even the smallest children. Of the many interesting features it was the wonder of all present to see a child less than eight years old at the black board explaining the map of the Central States in a manner that would have done credit to many teachers of the old school. His methods are unique. Prof. Daland is a brother of Rev. W. C. Daland, D. D., president of the Milton College, Miss., and carries with him to his new field the love of his pupils and the best wishes of his friends and patrons. ROCKY POINT.

SECRETARY SHAW ON TRUSTS.

Secretary Shaw, in addition to doing duty as Secretary of the Treasury, is appearing on the stump as the apologist for and the defender of the trusts, and he seems to be doing his level best in that line, while at the same time he is trying to pose as the friend of the people as between them and the trusts which would take advantage of them and extort from them.

But, according to Secretary Shaw, there are no trusts now, such as we had before the Sherman bill passed, for that killed the last one of them. In place of the trusts now we have combinations, combinations which he admits are formed for the purpose of removing competition.

He made a speech in Boston, before a Republican club, Wednesday night, a speech wholly devoted to trusts (which he says were driven out of existence by the Sherman law,) the aim of which was to show that the combinations, now commonly called trusts, are, as a general thing, good institutions, that the only law ever passed to handle those which are not good was a law drafted by a Republican statesman and passed by a Republican Congress, and the reason why the bad trusts are not prosecuted and driven out of existence by that law is because it is almost impossible to secure the evidence by which it can be done. This is tantamount to a confession that the Sherman law as a trust remedy doesn't amount to much, although he boasts in that speech that is as near perfect as a law for that purpose could be made, so perfect that no Democratic Congress would undertake to improve on it. But it takes more than a Congress to enact legislation of that kind. It takes a Congress and a President. In all the years since the war the Democratic party has never had full control of the Government, President and both branches of Congress but for two years, and during those two years, there were other questions that commanded more attention for the time than the trusts did.

Mr. Shaw says the trusts which existed previous to the passage of the Sherman law were killed by that law, the last one of then disappeared so that according to him there were really no trusts to legislate against, but there was the tariff question and the money question, the latter of which became the looming question during Mr. Cleveland's last administration, so much so that it completely overshadowed the trust question.

Assuming that he is honest when he says the trusts were driven out by the Sherman law, he admits that they took another shape, that of "combines," or "consolidations," which grew with amazing rapidity after the Wilson tariff was succeeded by the Dingley tariff, which gave them some twenty per cent more protection than they had under the Wilson tariff. He is hardly consistent with himself when he says the trusts were killed by the Sherman law, and then admits that combinations took the place of those trusts, the object in forming which was to prevent or escape competition, to guard against which was one of the main objects of the Sherman law. It prohibited combinations to prevent competition and thus monopolize the market, which is the principal complaint against and objection to trusts, so that the thing which Secretary Shaw says was killed by the Sherman law took another shape and exists in full vigor with a change of name.

The Sugar Trust, for instance, is called the American Sugar Refining Company, the Steel Trust is called the United States Steel Company, the Oil Trust is called United States Standard Oil Company, the Coal Trust is called the Anthracite Company, but they are all Trusts, all the same.

While claiming that the Republican statesmen gave the country the only law to hold the trusts in check, and contending that the Democratic party is not competent to deal with the question of regulating trusts, Mr. Shaw finds it necessary to make some explanation why his party representatives have made so little effort to enforce this drastic law, this superb piece of statesmanship, which they boast so much about—the Sherman law. His explanation is that it is extremely difficult, if not absolutely impossible, to secure the evidence to convict one of the trusts under the law. Perhaps this is a reason in advance for the dismal failure to prosecute to some purpose the Beef Trust, or to take any action against the Pennsylvania Anthracite Trust, which is really a more dangerous and criminal organization than the Beef Trust, for it has absolute control of the hard coal supplies of the country, and it, too, is protected by the Dingley tariff. It is difficult to secure evidence to convict, is it? When have they in the twelve years that the Sherman law has been upon the statute books, undertaken to enforce it against any other than the Beef Trust? And this was done under a pressure that could not be ignored. The administration was driven to take action against this Trust by the papers, which gathered the testimony as to the methods of the Trust, showed how it was violating the law and showed it in a way so conclusive and convincing that the Law Department of the Government had to notice it and take some action. The only action it could take was to instruct its district attorneys to investigate and prosecute in the courts when the investigation showed grounds for action. Why could not the government with all its law machinery have secured evidence which the newspapers had secured? It has the ability to secure evidence in other cases when the law is violated, but when it comes to the trusts Secretary Shaw says it must fall down, throw up the sponge, and acknowledge that it is whipped before the fight begins. If it was half as anxious to bring the trusts to time and to break them up as it is to knock out the traffic in moon shine whiskey it would find a way to do it, that under the Sherman law, and if that isn't sufficient would make a better one. It is absurd to suppose that no law can be framed to abate the trust evil.

THE IMPERIOUS BARONS.

"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad" applies with considerable aptness to the coal barons, who seem to be acting like madmen devoid of reason. They started out with a determination to recognize in no way the Miners' Union, and to crush it, if obstinacy could crush it, heedless of the cost to themselves, to the miners or to the public, and now when such extraordinary efforts are being made by officials of the Federal and State governments and by committees representing industrial interests affected by the coal strike, they imperiously and doggedly reply that they have no concessions to make which would recognize the Miners' Union or its president, Mr. Mitchell, so that simmered down it simply means that the issue is the Miners' Union, to crush which these arrogant mine operators would keep their mines closed and subject the people of the North Atlantic States especially to a coal famine, with all the horrors that implies.

And yet, while taking this imperious, indefensible, heartless attitude, they have the audacity to call for troops, and having gotten 9,000 State troops say these are not enough, but that they must in addition have the support of the Federal Government not only to help them mine coal, but to crush the Miners' Union.

No wonder Governor Odell, of New York, became indignant in the conference held Friday, and denounced the unreasonable and cold-blooded resolve of these barons to make no concessions, although the Miners' Union was willing to meet them more than half way. The miners show some regard for the sufferings of the public deprived of coal, in striking contrast to the haughty, unfeeling, tyrannical, cold-blooded, selfish bearing of Baer and the other mine magnates, who are playing such a brutal and despicable game, apparently oblivious of the fact that they are making themselves odious to the people and provoking a retribution which is as sure to come as season follows season.

They may keep up the fight with the miners, but when public sentiment stands behind the miners the barons will be overwhelmed and crushed.

When the story of Chinese atrocities filled the papers and shocked the world, it was the women who drew the pity and sympathy of all. Doubtless many a wife who heard her husband's words of sympathy for these women thought with a pang of the blindness of men to the suffering under their very eyes. It is true. The suffering of women in China was severe but short. Many a wife suffers for years with a daily agony of pain, her nerves shattered, her strength almost gone, and never hears a word of sympathy.

To women such as these Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription brings the opportunity of a new life of health and happiness. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

"I had falling of internal organs and had to go to bed every month; had irregular periods, which would sometimes last ten or twelve days," writes Mrs. Alice L. Holmes, of Coolspring St., Uniontown, Pa. "Had also indigestion so bad that I could hardly eat anything. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me. I took three bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MR. M'KETHAN OUT.

The withdrawal of Mr. McKethan as the independent candidate for Congress, has been foreshadowed for some time. It clears the atmosphere, and makes it a straight fight between Mr. Patterson, the Democratic nominee, and Mr. Slocomb, the Republican nominee, so that the voter will simply have to decide between Mr. Patterson and what he represents, and Mr. Slocomb and what he represents.

As a representative of the Democratic party and of Democratic principles, Mr. Patterson stands for the masses versus the classes; for fair, honest legislation for all, and for special privileges for no favored class; he is opposed to excessive tariff taxation for the benefit of the few and to the detriment of the many; he is opposed to trusts and combines, which take advantage of the people to extort high prices from them, and to tariff legislation that encourages and shelters such trusts and combines, in a word he stands for fair play and honest dealing with the people. He is opposed to Federal interference in our elections and to legislation that would force the negro voter upon us against our will, and would put Federal soldiers at the ballot boxes to enforce, if necssary, such legislation.

As the representative of the Republican party Mr. Slocomb stands for the reverse of all this, and if elected will be found voting with his party, (that is with the Representatives of his party from the North) on these lines, to perpetuate and force upon our people systems against which we have been manfully and resolutely contending for years.

This is the issue between Mr. Patterson and Mr. Slocomb, and this is the issue to be determined, as far as this district is concerned by the voters who cast their ballots on the 4th day of November next. It is either Patterson and Democracy, with all that implies, or Slocomb and Republicanism (which isn't a bit whiter since Pritchard whitewashed it) and all that implies.

One of the first men to meet the soldiers on their arrival in his bailwick was John Markle, one of the anthracite coal magnates. He would do anything he could do to make their sojourn pleasant, but when they asked him to let them stable their horses in the stables on his fine ranch he drew the line on that, because the stables were "crowded," and then when they asked him to give them the use of his sister's stables, which were vacant, he said he couldn't do that without her consent, and she is in Europe. If these soldiers had their way about it they would let Mr. Markle do his own protecting.

The negroes in the neighborhood of Dublin, Ga., have organized a reform association, to train negroes in the way they should go. When one of them doesn't behave as they think he should, he is notified to appear for trial, and if convicted is whipped in the presence of the society. They do not undertake to regulate the whole colored community, only members of the society.

Hawaii is looking around inquiringly for the gentleman who has been serving as custodian of her cash. He dissappeared recently simultaneously with $17,940 of her money, which is the fact which most interests her. His name was Wright, but he seems to have gone wrong.

It is said that the anthracite trust and the coal roads that work on the community of interest plan, represent a capital of $4,000,000,000, which is a pretty strong thing to buck up against.

Could we but know
The land that ends our dark, uncertain travel,
Where lies those happier hills and meadows low—
Ah, if beyond the spirit's inmost cavil
Aught of that country could we surely know,
Who would not go?

Might we but hear
The hovering angels' high imagined chorus,
Or catch, betimes, with wakeful eyes the clear,
One radiant vista of the realm before us—
With one wrapt moment given to see and hear,
Ah, who would fear?

Were we quite sure
To find the peerless friend who left us lonely,
Or there, by some celestial stream as pure,
To gaze in eyes that here were lovelit only—
This weary mortal coil, were we quite sure,
Who would endure?

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— John Mitchell is too great a man to be used for campaign purposes by the grubby politicians. The talk of making him a candidate for governor of Illinois is an insult to him. He is engaged in a far more important work now than that of pulling a political party in office.—Chicago News, Ind.

—— The Trust magnates might do a good stroke of campaign business by having the old song of "Woodman, Spare that Tree," modified to suit anti-tariff reform audiences. Sung by Mark Hanna, at the end of one of his addresses, against any reduction, however slight, of tariff rates, the ballard would be most inspiring.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—— Speaking of the fact that Tom Johnson announces that he is a free trader of the rankest kind, the Philadelphia Press says if he had to work for a living his views would be different. The editor of the Press knows that if Mr. Johnson had to work for a living he would get no benefits from the tariff. He also knows that as a manufacturer his profits are greatly enhanced by it. Mr. Johnson, however, has never wished to make money through the taxation of others. He has always been for free trade, in spite of the fact that by obtaining it his income would be largely cut down.—Jacksonville Times-Union, Dem.

COTTON MARKETS

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The cotton market opened firm, with prices unchanged to five points higher, and following the call stiffened up to 8 80 for January and to 8.61 for May, on a small scare of shorts and moderate bulling by room friends of the staple. The chief cause for the better feeling was a rise of four points in the Liverpool market at the close. After the first wave of buying in the local ring subsided, the market eased off several points under liquidation of a profit taking order by scalping longs and commission houses. Then a rally on bad weather news present and prospective, over the South Atlantic States, caused brisk general buying and the whole market again hardened. For the balance of the session the bears devoted energies to the defensive rather than follow former aggressive tactics. Receipts were about as expected, but the estimates for Monday's arrivals fell short of general ideas. Private telegrams from Southern spot markets reported active demand from exporters and domestic spinners with offerings smaller and chiefly at higher prices only. The weather chart gave heavy rains in the east but fair conditions in the western portions of the belt. Estimated receipts at the ports to-day 41,000 bales against 39,201 actual last week and 45,107 actual last year.

HOMEMADE DRESSES.

How to Cut and Fit a Dressy Affair That May Be Worn In the House or Out of Doors During the Summer.

[Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.]

The princess shape for home gowns, with some slight modifications from the old styles, is to be a favorite for the coming summer, and it will be adopted for many of the diaphanous as well as rich materials. For the lighter goods it is to be fairly smothered with lace and chiffon in the form of ruffles, the most of them being cut in the new and rather difficult "shaped flounce." With the darts taken in in front the gown becomes snug fitting and is more dressy.

The princess dress is cut in six pieces, not counting the sleeves or flounces, insets or collars. These six pieces are the foundation and reach from the neck to the feet in unbroken lines. If one can obtain a pattern of such a shape, it saves work, but if not a general direction of how to cut one may be given in a few words. Take a pattern of any well fitting waist where there is a seam down the center of the back and by using the diagram as guide cut the waist portion and then extend the line below the waist as long as the skirt is desired, always allowing two inches longer than is necessary for take up and possible inequalities.

The center of the waist at the back should be as narrow as the figure will permit of and is to be slanted out until at the bottom each part of the back is thirty inches wide. The middle of the back is three inches longer than the sides, and the front is sloped off to meet. The two side pieces are to be joined to the backs, beginning at the seam from the top, and the sides are treated in the same way, beginning at the underarm seam. The side pieces are twenty-four inches wide at the bottom each, and the fronts are twenty-four inches each, the whole combining 156 inches around the bottom of the skirt. This is for a plain skirt, but if two or more flounces are to be added it should not be quite so wide; otherwise the flounces would make it clumsy around the feet.

PRINCESS GOWN MODEL WITH HALF BELT.

It will be noticed that in the diagram there is a slash cut in the top of the waist reaching down to within three inches of the front dart and on the same line with it. This is to give more emphasis to the princess form and adds materially to its beauty. At the sides under the arms are curves which give the fit over the hips and throw the fullness toward the back.

This diagram gives the foundation of the princess shape, and where no regular pattern is available it is well to cut one out of the lining and try it to the figure after basting to make sure it is right. Then the outside is to be laid flat and the lining basted to it and cut. It is very essential that the outside and lining should be exactly alike, otherwise it may draw, and that would spoil the effect.

If a train is desired, all that is necessary is for the cutter to extend the lines in the back of each piece as many inches as she wishes the skirt to be longer than the pattern. The slope should be gradual, but decided, and the front parts of each piece should be somewhat longer, all except the middle of the front. The slope on the front breadths should not be over an inch and a half, to preserve the outline.

With the diagram is shown the proper kind of flounce to use on these skirts. It is cut on a square of the cloth, the front part being marked with a cross and the back with a circle. This is but half of the flounce, and the upper edge must be a trifle larger than the exact width of the skirt so that it can be held easily, and, while not at all gathered, it should be sprung. The bottom of the ruffle can be trimmed in any way the wearer wishes, the kind and quality of the material having something to do with the choice.

When the outside and lining are basted, sew the garment, beginning at the top of all seams. The front is left open, so that it is easy to don the dress, and the edges are hemmed. The surplus is turned in at the end of the seam and well fastened. Generally some kind of trimming is placed along the seam. If one should prefer to lap the front to one side or the other, cut the fronts not on the edge of the goods, but as many inches back as it is wished to lap it, and finish it so, following the idea given in the illustration.

There is no rule for the trimming of a princess gown, for every one has her own taste and can follow it, only keeping to the shape.

OLIVE HARPER.

Ten South Dakota farmers organized last year a little experiment station of their own. There was not a professor or scientist among the lot. They lived where the seeding and planting season is apt to be very dry. Each planted a small patch of corn in May at varying depths, from one to ten inches deep. The results were that the corn planted ten inches deep made the best crop, though how it ever managed to get out and do business at all we cannot understand, while the shallow planted patches proved total failures. Dakota readers can study this item over, for there may be something in it for them.

We are asked about the probable price of seed potatoes this spring. Will the seed be scarce and the price out of sight? The high prices for stock last fall operated as an incentive to hoard much for the supposed higher prices for seed in the spring, and we have it upon good authority that there are very large stocks of tubers being so held, and as they must be sold we incline to the opinion that seed potatoes will be obtainable in abundance and at reasonable rates. We would not wish to plant more two dollar seed potatoes than would be needed for our own use because twenty-five cent stock is easily in sight after Aug. 15 next.

CHEESE MAKING

The amount of cheap cheese made and put on the market should not be judged by the skim and part skim milk cheeses. These latter are made for a distinct purpose, and there is a wide market for them, says E. S. Warrenton in American Cultivator. Cheesemakers use skim and part skim milk with a full knowledge that the results will be of a certain inferior character, and the cheese is so marked when sent to market. The makers are satisfied if they get a few cents a pound.

But inferior cheese made from full cream milk and spoiled in the curing, keeping or some other way is a direct loss to the maker. The trouble is something that should be averted by following carefully rules that have been discovered through years of study and experiment. There are of course many reasons why cheese does not come out satisfactory when good full cream milk is used. Off flavor of cheese of this character is frequently due to lack of acid in the cheese or to hot curing rooms. In the trade such cheese has such a strong odor after being kept a short time that it is marked down heavily. The remedy is to see that the temperature of the curing rooms is better regulated and in preventing acidity. This latter is generally due to hastiness in making. When the cheese is made every other day, too much starter is used, and the attempt to hurry the work causes the trouble.

MAKING THE HOTBED.

It is now time to be making the hotbed if one is wanted. It is not very much trouble to make one which will well reward your labor. Find a sheltered nook having a south exposure, make a board box eighteen inches deep the size you want the bed—a pit sunk a foot deep in the ground is better—fill this with fresh horse manure well tramped to within eight inches of the top, pour on a few pails of water, then cover with five or six inches of good soil and put on your glass, giving it a slight inclination toward the sun. When the bed gets warm, which will be in three or four days, sow the seeds—radish, lettuce, early cabbage and tomato. The sash should be raised and the bed well ventilated every day when the outside temperature will permit, as there is more danger of its being too hot under the glass than too cold. To guard against an extreme cold spell in March there should be covering—straw or old carpet—handy to throw on the bed.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 12.

MURDERED BY BURGLARS.

Prominent Citizen of Lexington, Ky, Shot to Death and His Son Wounded, Perhaps Mortally.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 11.—A. B. Chinn, of the firm of Chinn & Todd, dry goods merchants in this city, one of the most prominent men in Kentucky, was shot to death in his home by two masked burglars at 3:30 A. M. to day. His son Asa, who heard the noise, rushed to his father's rescue and opened fire on the burglars through a closed door. The burglars returned the fire and Asa was perhaps mortally wounded. Citizens and police are searching for the murderers, but no clue has been found.

The battle in the hall was a sharp one. So close were the burglars to Asa Chinn the powder burned his face. His room is near that of his parents and he had scarcely gotten to sleep when his mother aroused him. The two burglars stood at the bedside of Mr. and Mrs. Chinn and striking a match covered them with their revolvers, demanding money. It was by the light of this match that Mrs. Chinn saw their green masks. Her impressions of the personal appearance of the men is very hazy. A. B. Chinn, the murdered man was a deacon in the Central Christian church. He was sixty-eight years old.

COAL STRIKE SITUATION.

Several Conferences Held in New York, But Nothing Developed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—There is no news in New York city to-night which would tend to show that the end of the coal strike is nearer than it has been for some time past. Several conferences were held during the day, chief among them that between Secretary of War Root and J. P. Morgan on the latter's yacht. This lasted for several hours, and then the two drove to the Union Club. Mr. Root did not stay long and soon after left for Washington. Mr. Morgan remained at the Union Club for several hours, receiving and answering telegrams. It was learned that D. H. Bacon, of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, and Chairman Thomas, of the Erie railroad, were at the club. Chairman Thomas had a talk at the Fifth Avenue hotel with Senator T. C. Platt, but what was said at any of the interviews of the day was not made public.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.--Secretary Root arrived here at 11:16 to-night from New York and went at once to his hotel. He refused to make any statement whatever concerning his conference with Mr. Morgan.

There were no callers at the White House to-night and it was stated that no report of any kind had been received from Secretary Root, regarding the outcome of his talk with Mr. Morgan. Secretary Root will probably confer with the President to-morrow, though it was stated by Secretary Cortelyou that no conference of any kind had been arranged.

NEW ORLEANS CAR STRIKE.

All Efforts to Settle the Trouble Failed.

Governor Issues Proclamation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW ORLEANS, October 11.—The failure to-day of all efforts to bring about a settlement of the differences between the striking street carmen and the New Orleans Railway Company has, it is feared, brought the strike situation to an acute stage. Preparations are being made to-day at military headquarters to carry into effect with a strong hand a proclamation issued by Governor Heard to-day demanding restoration of order and the suppression of violence. All the members of the local militia are ready to respond to the call to arms at a moment's notice and troops from the country parishes have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness.

No effort was made to run cars today and it is the general impression that the first attempt under the new conditions will be postponed until Monday.

COTTON MILL MERGER.

Committee Has Not Completed Selection of the Mills.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 11.—An Observer special from Greensboro, N. C., says:

The committee of cotton men charged with the duty of selecting the mills to be controlled by the Southern Textile Company under the Fries merger, adjourned to-night after a two day's session without having finished their work. Some of the members of the committee had business engagements for Monday that they were obliged to fill and for that reason could not continue their work here at this time.

They will meet again at a time and place to be selected later and complete the list of mills.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

Farmer and His Wife Killed in Their Home at Atoyaca, Tex.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NACOGDOCHES, TEXAS, October 11.—A telephone message to the sheriff this morning from Atoyaca, a village eighteen miles east, stated that Duncan Hicks, a prosperous farmer, and his wife, were both found to-day at their home two miles east from Atoyaca, with their brains shot out. The only solution of the murder was robbery. A negro suspected of having committed the crime is under arrest.

PUBLIC OFFICIALS ABOVE THE LAW.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Leading Feature of the Dinner Given to the Party Candidate for Governor Cheered to the Echo—Greeted as the Next President.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct 11.—One of the features of the present State campaign was the dinner which the Democratic Club of Massachusetts tendered to-night to Col. William A. Gaston, the party candidate for Governor. Over 250 party followers listened to speeches by Richard Olney, former secretary of state; Charles S. Hamlin, Josiah Quincy, John R. Thayer, congressman from the third district; Henry H. Hollis, Democratic candidate for Governor in New Hampshire, and Colonel Gaston.

Undoubted by the speech of the evening was that delivered by Mr. Olney, who was cheered for some minutes when he arose. Many greeted him as the next President. Mr. Olney spoke in part as follows:

"The signs of the times are that under the regime of the Republican party and through the national government's forty years of partnership with the protected industries, we have come to a pass where public officials as well as private citizens deem themselves above the law.

Astonishing Proceedings

"Witness the zealous haste with which the Treasury rushes to the relief of Wall street speculators by a novel and forced construction of the National banking law. Witness the astonishing proceeding of the same department in its instructions to subordinate officers respecting the duties to be collected on coal. But the generally lawless atmosphere in which the protected Republican reign has enveloped us is even more strikingly illustrated by the recent presidential demonstration upon the coal strike. There are others who say that as the President disclaimed any official duty or relation to the matter he should not have interfered. There is something to be said for that view. Though his office is charged with great function and invested with great powers, the President is a constitutional officer whose sphere of action is strictly limited by law.

"Within that sphere he is well nigh absolute—without, he is legally impotent. When, therefore, he goes without it, the danger is that he may fail and be defied, and that his great office may lose prestige and power and thus be less capable of performing its legitimate duties.

The Snub to Roosevelt.

"The President, for example, is our representative with foreign powers. Will it strengthen his hands that some half a dozen private citizens are found snapping their fingers in his face? The President's overture to the coal operators was prompted by the best motives and should have been treated with respectful consideration. It must have been declined courteously, even if firmly.

"But the opportunity to administer a snub to the President was too tempting. Accordingly he was not only treated as a rash intermeddler; he was also lectured upon the law and facts of the case, and to crown all was notified that the cause of the troubles was lawlessness which he was sarcastically invited to suppress.

"For sheer audacity this attitude of the coal operators could hardly be matched, and nothing could more strongly emphasize the discredit into which the law of the land has been brought by long continued Republican dominion.

Who Are the Coal Operators?

"Yet who are they who were so insistent upon the suppression of lawlessness in the mining regions? Why, the most unblushing and persistent of law-breakers. For years they have defied the law of Pennsylvania which forbids common carriers engaging in the business of mining. For years they have discriminated between customers in the freight charges on their railroads in violation of the interstate commerce law. For years they have unlawfully monopolized interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

"Indeed the very best excuse and explanation of their astonishing amateur performance at the Washington conference is that, having violated so many laws for so long and so many times, they might rightfully think they were wholly immune from either punishment or reproach.

"It is sometimes urged in extenuation of the coal operators' foolishly offensive tone at the conference, that they were enraged at the recognition of labor unions and the presence by invitation of their representative. If that be so, they must be as blind to the salixnt facts of the era they are living in as they are oblivious of legal obligations.

Their Indifference to Law.

"In these days of combination by capital on a scale and to an extent as startling as it is unprecedented, can they possibly imagine that labor is to be denied an equivalent right of combination? If they do, it is only another instance of their complete indifference to the law of the land.

"In 1894 receivers of a railroad were brought into court on a claim that laborers ought not to be discharged because of membership of a labor union. Though the court was a Federal court, it sat in Pennsylvania, and the petitioners got nothing from that court.

"But what followed? In a year or two Pennsylvania made it a criminal offence to deprive a man of work because he belonged to a labor union. In 1898 Congress not only did the same thing, but in a statute providing for the arbitration of labor disputes, expressly made labor organizations parties to such arbitration. This was in addition to the previous legislation by Congress encouraging and providing for the incorporation of labor unions. In ignoring them, therefore, the coal operators simply ignore and condemn the law of the land."

From Coal to Wood.

Raleigh News and Observer: Major F. K. Huger, Superintendent of the Second Division of the Seaboard Air Line, speaking yesterday of the coal famine and the outlook for the winter, said he was on his way to look after having eight engines of the Seaboard system on the Carolina Central changed from coal to wood burners. Two are switch engines at Hamlet, two at Wilmington and six are road engines.

THE BIBLE'S INFALLIBILITY.

Outspoken Criticism by Bishops and Other Dignitaries of the English Church Congress.

By Cable to the Morning Star

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The English Church Congress, following so closely on the death of John Kensit, the anti-ritualist crusader, and all the bitter feelings which that somewhat tragic event accentuated, could scarcely have been expected to be a peace conference, and to the normal disagreements which exist between the high and low sections of the Church, an unexpected bone of discord has been added. This consists in an outspoken criticism of the Bible's infallibility. The discussion had none of the academic tone which is so often associated with English and American discussion of the so-called German school of thought. It was an eloquent plea from a well-known man for rational teaching of the Bible to children, so that when they grow up they will not discard the inner meaning of Oriental imagery, as they did the tales of Santa Claus.

Dr. Wordsworth, Bishop of Salisbury, opened the discussion, and Rev. Alexander Kirkpatrick, regulus professor of Hebrew at Cambridge and Canon of Ely, boldly declaring they must not regard all parts of the Bible as being equally valuable.

Rev. Edgar Gibson, prebendary, of Wells and chaplain in ordinary to the King, compared the Bible to Shakespeare's mythical character of Macbeth, "around which Shakespeare built up a great human document." So, other writers, he asserted, took up certain fabled incidents and built around them the great truths which made religion what it is. The clergy was wrong in going on teaching the Bible in the old way. The church had nothing to fear, but had much to gain from the new criticism.

Sir A. Short, master at Harrow, said the cheap press had rendered it impossible for the people to read the Bible as did Cromwell's Ironsides. He believed the majority of school teachers adopted an uncandid attitude before their biblical classes, "which was morally unwholesome and scientifically incorrect." Such treatment of boys merely led the pupils to easy disbelief in later years.

Rev. Dr. King raised a great controversy by saying the Bible could no longer be regarded as the standard of morals.

Dr. Alexander, Bishop of Derry, quoting Christ, reminded the congress that all revelation is progressive.

IN THE STRIKE REGION.

Everything Quiet—Troops Had Little to Do—Shipments of Coal in a Small Way Still Going On.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 11.—Another week of the coal mine workers strike closed to-day without any incident worthy of note. It was extremely quiet throughout this valley and the troops had little work to do. Some of the coal companies' superintendents assert that they have made a slight gain in the number of men employed since last week, but also admit there have been a few desertions. The shipment of coal is still going on in a small way.

There were no new developments at strike headquarters. President Mitchell arrived from New York city early in the day and had nothing to say regarding his trip. He felt that it was better for all concerned that nothing be said at present.

Mr. Mitchell's attention was called to the letter of Vice President Wilcox, of the Delaware and Hudson R. R. Company, to President Roosevelt, in which he maintains that the miners' union is an illegal organization. The strike leader hesitated to say anything for a moment, and then replied: "The miners' union is organized along the same lines as all labor unions in the country. If the miners' organization is illegal so are all the others, and I say our union is not illegal."

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION.

Ground Broken for the Memorial Hall of the Society in Washington.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—With elaborate patriotic services, ground was today broken for the Memorial Continental Hall of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at 17th and D streets, northwest.

The ceremony marked the twelfth anniversary of the founding of the Society of the Daughters of the Revolution. Mrs. Charles N. Fairbanks, president general of the order and wife of the senior United States Senator from Indiana, officiated, assisted by the surviving founders of the national society. The spade with which the earth was turned was presented by the Montana Society, through Mrs. Walter Harvey Weed, vice regent of that State, who read a poem written for the occasion, by Ella Wheeler Wilcox. The spade is made of gold and silver taken from Montana mines and is set with blue and white sapphires from that State.

ROOSEVELT IN EARNEST.

Seeking Every Method for Federal Interference in Coal Strike.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—President Roosevelt is seeking every method by which there may be Federal action in settling the coal strike. His best advisers have been required to look carefully into the laws which may have a bearing on the subject, and see if there is any statute under which he can proceed. So far nothing has been found. There is one ray of hope, but it is rather faint in view of the attitude of the coal operators. This is that some mutual ground of arbitration may be found.

That the President is very much in earnest is shown from the conferences on the subject that continue at the White House. Secretary Wilson, of the agricultural department; Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, and Frank D. Sargent, commissioner of immigration, were among those who saw the President to-day, and it is understood all of them discussed the coal strike situation with him. The conference continued during the afternoon without definite result.

TO AID THE STRIKERS.

An Address Issued by the American Federation of Labor.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The American Federation of Labor, through its executive council, to-day issued an address to the public, appealing for financial and moral aid for the striking anthracite miners, and denouncing the attitude of the mine owners, on whom, the appeal says, must rest the responsibility for the hardships resulting from the coal famine.

TRAIN HELD UP BY MASKED MEN.

NEAR LINCOLN, NEBRASKA.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LINCOLN, NEBR., Oct. 11.—Three masked men held up the Pacific Coast Express train, of the Burlington road, four miles from Lincoln, shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. They used explosives in the express car, shattering it badly, and after wrecking the safe rifled it of its contents, securing $50,000 in gold coin.

The train was a few minutes late, and was in charge of Conductor C. A. Lyman and Engineer A. L. Clayburg. On the crest of a hill midway between the city and the town of Woodlawn, the engineer saw a red light waved across the track and brought the train to a standstill. Two men sprang quickly into the cab, covering Clayburg and his fireman with revolvers. They lost no time in giving their orders, and were just as quickly obeyed.

The express car was cut from the balance of the train and sent ahead a short distance. The robbers found the door locked and after commanding Messenger William J. Upton to open it and getting no response fired two or three shots into the car. The door was then opened. A heavy charge of dynamite tore the safe to pieces. The two men who were in the car politely bade the train men good morning, jumped from the car and disappeared in the darkness. The passengers were not molested, nor were the train men asked for their personal property.

While the robbery in the express car was going on, a third robber walked alongside the track by the passenger coaches, firing his revolver occasionally to keep inquisitive passengers quiet. Brakeman Moore, who alighted from the rear coach to go ahead, found a revolver pushed in his face with a warning to go back where he belonged. He ran the four miles to the Lincoln yards, where he gave the alarm. The robbers were cool, talkative and apparently experts. The whole job occupied little time.

The train was run back to Lincoln. The wrecked expressed car was taken out and at 4 o'clock the train resumed the journey, the original crew going out with it. Following it was an engine carrying Chief of Police Hoaglan, Detective Malone and his two bloodhounds and three police officers. At the scene of the hold up the hounds took the scent and the pursuit of the robbers was begun.

The booty of the robbers consisted principally of gold coin. This made the burden of the robbers exceedingly heavy and accounts for a broad trail discovered by Chief Hoagland. The robbery was originally planned to take place at St. Joseph and the railroad men were on the lookout. One of the criminals "tipped" the scheme off to the company, and this probably accounts for the shifting of the crime to Lincoln A reward of $1,000 has been offered by the Burlington Company for the capture of the gang.

Up to 10 o'clock to-night no news of the capture of the Burlington train robbers has been received. The pursuit, however, is active and advices received from the posses encourage the hope that it will be successful. Detective Malone with his bloodhounds is at Louisville county to-night, thirty-five miles away, to which place he followed a seemingly positive trail.

Estimates on the amount secured from the Adams Express Company's safe range all the way from $2,000 to $50,000. The officials refuse to say a word about their loss, and the only authoritative statement is from General Superintendent Calvert, of the Burlington, who is positive the robbers didn't get more than $2,000.

BELIEVES IN EXTREME MEASURES.

Would Hang Baer and Other Coal Operators on the Nearest Tree.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LYNN, MASS., Oct. 11.—At a mass meeting here to-day, called for the purpose of aiding the striking miners, Mayor John F. Hurley, of Salem, created a sensation when he said that if he had his way he would hang President Baer and the other operators on the nearest tree. He said he did not want to kill them, but he would use them as he would use a dog, by putting a collar around their necks and raising them on a limb of a tree two or three times, or until they would be willing to arbitrate. Mayor Hurley said he believed in extreme measures and that they should be adopted now.

Time Proves All Things.

Benjamin Franklin said the sun stood still and the world moved around. No one believed it then; now every one believes it.

In time past I said I intended to make Wilmington's Big Racket Store go to the top. No one believed it then, and now, judging from the amount of business we are doing and the number of customers we handle, the people must believe we are on the right road.

The keystone to our success in the past has been in selling good values and honest goods and guaranteeing satisfaction at the lowest prices. Our large store looks like a bazaar. The piles and piles of goods that are strung up and stuck up and set up to show up is one of the evidences that we are in the race to stay. Plenty of new goods received every day by us, and the managers in each department vie with the others in trying to get the newest and prettiest goods in their stock. Our Shoe stock, which is managed by Mr. E. Z. Mitton, has received large shipments of new goods this week.

Ladies' nice stylish solid Leather Shoes, in button or lace, we are selling at $1 a pair. Men's oil grain Creole Standard, $1.25 value, we are selling for $1.

The world renowned Battle Axe Shoe—acknowledged by the school boys and girls and their fathers and mothers to be the best shoes sold are now on sale at the Racket Store, prices $1 to 2.50 a pair.

A big line of new boy's shoes, best styles; tip top goods, $1 to $2.50 a pair.

Wolfe Bros'. Spring heel shoes, none better every pair guaranteed by factory to give service and satisfaction, all leather 50 cents to $1.25 a pair.

5,000 shoes to fill your memorandum with. A few pair of Greenwald's fine Ladies Shoes to sell yet, also plenty of Greenwald's children shoes left.

In Men and Boy's Clothing we claim to be the Champion Clothing House of the town; we sell standard goods at low prices.

We have 500 Boys suits with knee pants that run in prices 75 cents to $5.00. For $1.98, $2.25 and $2.50 you can get an elegant suit for a boy any size. Also a nice line of young men's suits, 17 years to 21 that are worth $2.50 to $7.50 a suit, and for men we defy competition. In their stock we have 3000 suits which fill in a floor space 25 feet by 120 feet and every table filled up.

We have suits for $1.98, good well made goods and from that up to $20.00.

I think I can fill your order and fit you up. We have a tailor that does our cutting and when a suit doesn't fit, we make a fit. We guarantee satisfaction.

Good all wool black suits at $5 a suit. Beautiful worsted suits for $7.50, $10 and $12.50. Extremely handsome suits for $15, $16.50, $18 and $20. You are the wearer and we are the seller. Come to see us and see if we can't trade.

In Ladies' Dress Goods — Well, this stock is a pleasure to talk about; with so many pretty things to show; the Dress Goods salesman takes pleasure in showing them.

A full line in pretty Fall Suitings, 54, 56 and 58, all wool and high grade, $1, regular price $1.50.

Basket weave Suttis Cloth, in black and blue, 50 inches wide, at $1. 54-inch reversible suiting, all wool; needs no lining; in several patterns; 50c, 69c, 75c, $1 and $1.39 per yard. A plenty of cheap grades.

A plenty of cheap goods. Pretty worsteds 10c and up. Rockingham Homespun, 5c; Sea Island Sheeting 5c yard; good yard wide Bleaching at 5c and up.

500 pairs Blankets of all kinds and almost anything you can call for at The Big Racket Store. As a rule the world helps those that try to help themselves. We need your assistance. Give us another lift and we will build another store.

Yours, for business,

In order to determine the comparative values of our daily papers as a medium for advertising, and to have the people see the Finest line of Furniture ever shown in North Carolina and as fine as they can find in New York City, I will, during the month of October have in my store a box in which any visitor, whether a buyer or not, may place a slip on which they will write name and address and name of paper in which they saw this notice, and on the 1st of November the box will be well shaken and one slip drawn from same. The party whose name is on the slip will receive as a souvenir of this ad the Handsome Gold Musical Chair, which has attracted so much notice. Non-residents may mail their slips, which will be placed in box, but residents of city must visit the store in person.
